

Coronavirus: Visitor regulations at Brose

(17. March 2020) Stricter measures are being taken around the world to combat the rapid spread of coronavirus. Brose must also make decisions on an ongoing basis each day and are intensifying our precautionary measures as a result. The company has therefore decided to suspend visits by external persons to its locations worldwide until further notice. This regulation also applies to the use of services by former or retired employees. Exceptions for visits that cannot be postponed like maintenance work require the permission of the responsible location manager.
