The legal basis in the sense of the GDPR for the use of your data is Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f GDPR (justified interest of the person responsible). Our legitimate interests are in particular the safeguarding of domiciliary rights, comparison with sanctions lists and compliance with customs regulations.

In addition, in specific situations (e.g. in the case of official orders to prevent infection), further data may be collected from you. If this is the case, you will receive further information on the processing of your personal data when the data is collected.

Because Brose is a globally operating group of companies, it may also be necessary to pass on your data to other companies in the Brose Group, including those outside the EU/EEA, in order to fulfill the above-mentioned purposes. A uniform level of data protection is ensured by the existence of binding internal data protection regulations and the agreement of standard contract clauses for Joint Controllers.

We may also transfer your data to external parties (e.g. authorities, courts or legal advisors) if this is necessary to comply with legal obligations or to enforce, exercise or defend legal claims.
