

Geneva Motor Show - new cars with Brose on board

Coburg (15. March 2010)

The 80th International Motor Show in Geneva closed its gates yesterday. The show played host to all the major automakers who presented interesting vehicle concepts and world premiers - with Brose inside: Numerous launches are equipped with Brose mechatronic components, systems and electric motors designed to save weight, to increase energy efficiency as well as to enhance comfort and safety in everyday driving situations.

A list with a selection of the current world premieres featuring Brose products is available for download.
