GM's Supplier of the Year award recognizes global suppliers that distinguish themselves by exceeding GM's requirements, in turn providing customers with innovative technologies and among the highest quality in the automotive industry. This is the 7th time Brose has received the award.

"On behalf of the entire Brose organization, I want to thank General Motors for recognizing Brose with a Supplier of the Year award for the sixth time in a row," says Wilm Uhlenbecker, President, Brose North America. "We do not take it for granted. The partnership we have built with General Motors is important to us and our team works hard to be deserving of this award every year. A trusting and mutually beneficial relationship between supplier and customer is a tough achievement in challenging times, and I am appreciative of the individuals on both sides who are making it work."

"We are thrilled to recognize these outstanding suppliers after yet another challenging year in the automotive industry," said Jeff Morrison, GM vice president of Global Purchasing and Supply Chain. "They overcame countless obstacles and exemplified what it means to be resilient, resourceful and determined. Beyond that, these suppliers demonstrated their commitment to sustainable innovation and to driving advanced solutions in collaboration with the GM team."

Each year, GM's Supplier of the Year recipients are selected by a global, cross-functional GM team for their performance in criteria such as Product Purchasing, Global Purchasing and Manufacturing Services, Customer Care and Aftersales and Logistics.
